FROM STAFF & WIRE REPORTS

What better spot to experience a film festival of outdoor adventure than alongside the Kennebec River on a pitch-dark night in the wild with the stars above you? THE MAINE OUTDOOR FILM FESTIVAL at Three Rivers Whitewater in West Forks is the second annual film rendezvous for hearty outdoorspeople and whitewater groupies, and it's way, way up there in Somerset County. The high-energy footage—a curated selection of short films from many adventure photographers—is focused on Maine.

"We have a fantastic jury this year selecting the films we'll show—Ryan Brod, who made the award-winning ice-fishing film Hardwater; Tom Gerencer, whose Foam Boater was feature-length; and Jane Koopman—she's a whitewater kayak instructor and a Sugarloaf ski patroller," says festival organizer Nick Callanan. "The films cover everything from snowboarding and skiing to runner sledding, whitewater kayaking, fly fishing, salmon fishing, mountain biking, and skydiving."

Deadline for submissions from outdoor filmmakers is August 1—see maineoutdoorfilm.com.

And this is only one of the festivals out there, all over Maine, all summer long. Find the adventure, the food, the art, or the county fair for you on the following pages, and then hit the open road.

MS REGATTA & HARBORFEST

Aug. 16-18

Portland Harbor. It began 31 years ago as a friendly competition for a good cause among local sailors, and it has grown into a 3-day festival of events on land and sea. There's a skippers' meeting, reception, and benefit auction on Friday; the Saturday regatta is a day on the water that starts colorfully with a parade of sail in Portland Harbor; and on Sunday, waterfront spectators can check out tugboat and lobsterboat races in the harbor right after they compete in the 5K race that starts in Fort Allen Park. nationalmssociety.org

See fortkent-muskie.com for the derby rules and regs and note the whopping $35,000 in prize money for the biggest fish. 834-5354, fortkentchamber.com
