Portland Magazine Wins 5 National Prizes at the 2008 American Graphic Design Awards

NEW YORK–Portland Magazine has captured five prizes at the prestigious national American Graphic Design Awards for Design Excellence conducted in New York by Graphic Design USA magazine for the second consecutive year.

The American Graphic Design Awards is a nationwide juried competition from one of the most respected design industry resources. The awards have been presented for more than 40 years, and the judges are composed of industry leaders in all aspects of graphic design.

Graphic Design USA’s prize announcement of the awards, including a listing of the stories and covers that received the honors:

CONGRATULATIONS!

You have been selected as a winner in the 2008 AMERICAN GRAPHIC DESIGN AWARDS.

For more than four decades, Graphic Design USA has sponsored national design competitions that spotlight areas of excellence and opportunity for creative professionals. The American Graphic Design Awards is the biggest and broadest of these, open to everyone in the community: advertising agencies, graphic design firms, corporations, institutions, publishers and more. It honors outstanding work of all kinds and across all media.

For the fourth straight year, we saw a remarkable 10,000+ entries; of these, a highly selective 15 percent are recognized with Awards of Excellence.

“It is an honor for us to be given this recognition again, especially having fresh design sensibilities appeal to a different group of judges. Moreover, it continues to be great news for our readers, advertisers, and all Portland Magazine supporters,” says Robert Witkowski, Design Director.

Celebrating 22 years in publication, Portland Magazine has also won multiple 2007 American Graphic Design Awards for Design Excellence, including publication design, as well as six national graphic-design awards in the last three years for front cover art direction at the annual Maggie Zine Awards sponsored by NewsStand Resource magazine of Greensboro, North Carolina, including First Prize and Best in Show.

The full list of award winners, selected from among over 10,000 entrants nationwide, will be published in the December 2008 GDUSA Design Annual.
MISSION STATEMENT

To excite our readers about the state of Maine so that they are open to new discoveries to make their quality of life even better.

To exceed all expectations by capturing the spirit of Maine.

We are Maine’s City Magazine.

DESCRIPTION

Established in 1985, Portland Magazine celebrates the region’s native appeal with award-winning columns on the waterfront; profiles of the region’s business and people; and features on the area’s arts, getaways, maritime history, geography, and cuisine.

In addition, each issue captures our audience with new fiction, great listings, and exclusive angles on issues that affect everyday life. From realistic assessments of the local economy and its political vagaries to stories on personalities who have chosen our area over all others, to Maine’s own variations of the work ethic, to light-hearted glimpses of Yankee contradictions, we consistently present fresh narratives about the greatest place in the world to visit, to do business in, and to live.

More than just a city-lifestyle magazine, Portland Magazine offers an extraordinary perspective of Maine that has made it the favorite in area hotels, airlines, and waiting rooms, as well as a leader in subscription and single-copy sales.

Celebrating 23 years!
MILESTONES

- April–July 1986: Waterfront series by John Taylor wins First Prize for Magazine Feature Writing in award ceremony conducted by the American Society of Business Communications.
- June 1986: Magazine is profiled on television news by WGME-TV as one of three in a series about new small businesses in Maine. Feature articles on magazine printed in the Hartford Courant and the Maine Sunday Telegram.
- August 1987: Cover story breaks the news that van Gogh’s Les Iris painting is about to be sold, forcing Sotheby’s to confirm this story to other media at a press conference in September.
- September 1989: Jamie Wyeth interview appears with photos by Life magazine photographer Susan Gray. Interview draws praise from Andrew Wyeth.
- April 1990: Fiction by Pulitzer Prize winner Louis Simpson.

CONTROLLED CIRCULATION
Waiting-room copies of Portland Magazine are distributed to all doctors’, lawyers’, and dentists’ offices from Kittery to Camden, including saturation coverage in all the Portland, South Portland, Cape Elizabeth, Cumberland, and Freeport financial sectors as well as Augusta, Hallowell, Lewiston, and Auburn. This unique program introduces families of consumers to our advertisers. Imagine the pre-existing depth of influence and affluence and generational coverage when, so often, you hear about Portland Magazine: “Oh—I saw it in my doctor’s office!”

Retailers Love: Our deep statewide presence in all of the Maine Bureau of Tourism Visitor centers. Since instituting this major partnership, thousands upon thousands of new shoppers hitting the outlets have Portland Magazine in hand from their stops near the Kittery and Freeport outlets. This provides singular, unmatched coverage. We stock the Portland Visitor Center on Commercial Street as well.

We Mail To: The entire influence database of the Chamber of Commerce of the Greater Portland Region. This is not simply one copy per business but a highly cultivated list that flexes upward according to the size of the business.

Businesses Such As Hannaford subscribe in bulk to Portland Magazine because they give our magazine to newly hired executives so they can ‘hit the ground running’!

We Are The Guest Room Magazine for the Maine Coast’s Major Luxury Hotels:
