TRUST

A survey by MarketingSherpa shows 82 percent of U.S. internet users trust print ads over any other medium when making a purchase decision.

INTEGRITY

The opinions given in this magazine are those of Portland Monthly writers. No establishment is ever covered in this magazine because it has advertised, and no payment ever influences our stories and reviews.

LONGEVITY

More than 190 print magazines have thrived for more than 50 years. Designed by Mainers for readers who love Maine, we're celebrating 35 years!

We know the history and understand the trends of the Maine markets. We are proud to celebrate each milestone in our history. View a detailed timeline of our milestones later in this media kit.

THE READERS

Studies show print readers have higher comprehension and recall, more focused attention, and a more emotional connection to what they're reading.

IMPACT

Sixty-five percent of readers will take action after viewing a print ad.

Extraordinary Perspective

Our daring story trajectories, late-night inspirations, exacting detail, and extra research put readers first. This is very rare. We look at the present through the lenses of the past and the future, putting the reader at the center of an astonishing world.
